

A 10-year-old boy comes with his mother to the dental office because of a painless swelling of his maxilla. Radiographic exam reveals an irregularly shaped radiopaque mass with a ground glass appearance. No other bulges have been noted by the mother. A biopsy reveals fibrous tissue in the bone. What is the most likely diagnosis?

- Monostotic fibrous dysplasia
- Polyostotic fibrous dysplasia
- Albright's syndrome
- Jaffe syndrome